

MINERS TO QUIT TONIGHT

Thousands Will be Idle Monday

PRESIDENT IS STILL MUM

Will not Interfere Unless Satisfied all Hope is Gone

(Scripps-McRae Dispatch.)

WASHINGTON, March 31.—The president's determination to take no hand in the coal strike until every possible means of settlement has been exhausted, meets the approbation of even the administration's sharpest critics. Southern members who are usually ready and willing to find fault admit the executive has taken the wisest course.

One southern congressman said, "I bet Roosevelt is just dying to get into an argument, but he is not nearly so impulsive as he used to be, and his better judgment prevailed."

Many Want Peace.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 31.—A number of individual offers by operators to sign the 1903 scale were received today. Indications are many will arrive shortly. Most of the miners returned home to attend the beginning of the strike.

"Mother Jones" is here this morning and said she would go into fields if needed.

Mitchell is badly in need of rest. The past eight weeks have been most trying on his strength with the continual round of arguments in New York, Pennsylvania or Indianapolis.

As floor leader at the joint conference and presiding officer of the miners he has been the leading spirit in committee meetings and worked early and late.

The greatest strain came when he was attacked personally by an operator on the floor.

Two Thousand Quit.

BEVIER, Mo., March 31.—Two thousand employees of the mines have stopped work pending a new wage scale.

Agree in Iowa.

DES MOINES, Ia., March 31.—The miners and operators appointed committees this morning to consider the new wages scale. The miners agreed to furnish men to protect and preserve the properties during suspensions.

Fourteen hundred will quit in the state tonight.

Companies to Work.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., March 31.—Some anthracite companies are preparing to work Monday despite the suspension order. The posted notices declaring all who report will be given work under the present agreement and furnished ample protection.

OLD MEN SWINDLE AN AGED VICTIM

CHICAGO, March 31.—James Low, aged 83, and Aurelius C. Turpin, aged 75, have been arrested, accused of swindling William G. Schroeder, aged 75, of $25,000 worth of lands in Indiana, Michigan, Missouri and Colorado. It is alleged that they gave bad titles to worthless lands in Kentucky and worthless railroad bonds.

"COWITCH" MAN IS IN HARD LUCK

After Collection Releases Moseley he May be Re-arrested

According to a telephone message received at police headquarters this morning from Sheriff Charles Ward of Viroqua Leo Moseley, arrested here yesterday on the charge of beating a board bill and released today after a collection had been taken up to square the matter, is wanted in Viroqua on the charge of beating another board bill and also for robbing a farmer while in jail there of a certificate of deposit.

Whether Moseley will be arrested again and taken to Viroqua is purely a matter of conjecture. The authorities here will take no further action unless Sheriff Ward instructs them to hold Moseley.

Moseley has had a lot of trouble during the last two weeks. He originally had a job with a sewing machine company and while holding down this position struck Viroqua. There he attended a dance, and it was alleged sprinkled "cowitch" on the bare shoulders of some of the girls in attendance. The next morning blisters developed and the young ladies suffered from extreme irritation. A week or so later he was arrested by Sheriff Ward at Baraboo and taken to Viroqua for trial. The hearing resulted in his acquittal, the state having no case against him. Then Moseley returned to Baraboo and learned that he had lost his job.

From there he drifted to La Crosse, stopping first at the Hotel Law, later at the American House and taking one meal at Hotel Grand. He paid no board at any of these places. John Timp of the American House had him arrested and arraigned before Judge Brindley. During the few days that he had been in the city Moseley had made a few friends and when the case was called this morning they put in an appearance and took up a collection sufficient to pay the American House bill and costs of case. The Hotel Grand bill was also fixed up and Moseley departed with Landlord Sterling of Hotel Law to work out the bill that hostelry had against him. Moseley has a good chance to brace up and announced that he intended to make good.

DECORATE LEADER OF ENTOMBED MINERS

(Scripps-McRae Dispatch.)

PARIS, March 31.—The ministry has decided to decorate with the legion of honor Henri Nemy, the miner who assumed the leadership of the thirteen men entombed for twenty days, and who kept up their courage through their sufferings.

The mining commission this morning placed the responsibility for the great loss of life at the mines upon the engineers whose duty it is to oversee the rescue work. The commission declares at least eight hundred could have been saved.

ANOTHER INCREASE IN LUMBER

The trout season does not open until May 1 this year. In former years April 15 has been the date.

They separated early in the winter and Mrs. McCall returned to her home in this city.

ATTENDS CHURCH TO WIN $1,500

If Peter Paulson Fails to Attend Every Sunday for 15 Years He's Out

Judge Fruit has decided a strange case in which Peder Paulson, of Cashton is informed that he must obey the provisions of his mother's will to attend church every Sunday for fifteen years, or lose his inheritance of $1,500 which, it is provided is to be paid in annuities of $100.

At this rate he would get something under two dollars for each trip to church.

The case involves the construction of the will of Mary J. Paulson, from Cashton, argued before Judge Fruit of the circuit court a year ago, and appealed to the supreme court by Peter Paulson, the son. The supreme court upholds Judge Fruit's decision.

The legal points involved in the case are of interest and in some respects new. Mrs. Paulson in her will gave her son, Peder Paulson, $100 a year for fifteen years upon the condition that he attend the regular meetings of the Emmanuel church near Cashton, when not sick in bed, or prevented by other unavoidable occurrence. Peter contended that the condition requiring him to go to church was void, and he should get his money without attending church. A. H. Smith appeared as attorney for Peter and T. P. Abel as attorney for the executrix of the will. Judge Fruit held that Peter must go to church to get his money, and the supreme court also holds the condition valid.

The newly wedded couple will make their home in La Crosse.

JAMES PRICE, A PIONEER, GONE

James Price, an old pioneer settler of Caledonia, died Thursday morning from heart failure. He had been slightly ill for several days previous to his death but was able to be around and finished his breakfast at the table only a few minutes before he was stricken. Mr. Price was a native of London, England, and was born June 9, 1829. He came to America when nine years old and settled at Kingston, Canada. He visited this section several times before finally locating in Caledonia in 1855. He was married at Sheldon to Miss Jane Spencer. Three children were born to them, viz: Ida, wife of W. H. DUCHESS OF DANTZIG

The Transvaal "Critic" of Johannesburg, S. A., says: A big house witnessed the opening performance of the "Duchess of Dantzic" last Monday evening at His Majesty's theatre. There are many pretty songs and Miss Anna Hickisch, who interprets the very heavy role of the high spirited, good natured "Cather-

CUILDING TRADES BUSY

Many Unions Hold Special Meetings This Evening to Decide

Indications late this afternoon were that there will be a general strike of building trades unions declared Monday morning.

While both employers and tradesmen are inclined to be reticent this afternoon regarding the outcome of the demands for increased wages and shorter hours to go into effect April 1 it was stated that the questions had not been adjusted by arbitration, nor had there been any negotiations looking to a settlement.

The carpenters union will hold a special meeting tonight, when a plan of action will be decided upon. Other unions are likewise preparing for the crisis Monday morning.

COMMITTEE GOES TO AUS- TIN TO INTERVIEW SUNDAY

Revs. Fowler and Wentworth Will Have a Personal Interview With The Evangelist

Revs. Fowler and Wentworth, representing the churches and business-men of the city, left at 10:40 this morning for Austin, Minn., where they will interview the evangelist, W. A. Sunday, personally, in regard to coming to La Crosse next October for a series of revival meetings.

In his telegram to The Tribune yesterday afternoon Rev. Sunday stated twenty cities were ahead of La Crosse in their applications, but the committee feels if it can convince the evangelist that La Crosse needs his services they may be able to influence him to give this city the preference.

In any event the committee expects to make much headway in their campaign for a reform movement in this city with the noted evangelist as the leader of the anti-Pluto forces.

BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY.

Miss Laura Cunningham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Cunningham, was hostess at a charming dinner Wednesday given in honor of her thirteenth birthday. Covers were laid for ten at a handsomely appointed table. When the dining room doors were thrown open it was like a glimpse of fairy land. A long table extended the length of the room decorated with fragrant flowers, and pretty souvenirs. The color scheme was pink and was carried out effectively in every respect. The name cards were tied with pink ribbons. Upon the reverse sides were conundrums with which the young guests entertained one another in trying to solve between courses. Tiny baskets tied with pink ribbons filled with bonbons were also placed at each cover. The souvenirs were pretty little fans which when unfurled revealed fluffy little roset ties of pink silk. In the center of the table was a large bunch of pink carnations while on either side were wrought iron candle-sticks with pink tapers covered with pink shades. This artistically decorated table and its beautiful appointments surrounded by the group of happy young girls in their pretty and dainty gowns made a charming picture which will long be remembered. After the dinner the real fun of the evening began and games were played till time for the young misses to bid adieu to their host. In the guessing contests Miss Dorothy Hixon took one of the prizes and Ellen Hixon the other. The hostess received a number of handsome gifts from her friends here, and also from out of the city. At an impromptu musical recital given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Toland Monday afternoon music lovers of the city enjoyed a rare treat. Mr. U. S. Keer of Boston, a singer of more than ordinary ability entertained the hastily invited guests for two hours or more singing with his matchless grace and skill as only an artist can sing. Mr. Kerr is a baritone of wide repute having sung with great success before large audiences in New York, Boston and other prominent cities. Some of the selections sung included extracts from Wagner's operas, also one of Beethoven's cohest songs, "Gods Glory in Nature." A cycle of German songs and a delightful little Scotch song, "Oh, for a Breath from the Moorland." Mr. Kerr has gone to Minneapolis where he will fill an engagement as soloist is one of the leading churches of that city.

STORER IS SICK IN IN BED

Vienna, March 31.—Bellamy Storer, the retiring United States ambassador, is sick in bed, suffering from a renewed attack of Egyptian fever. His physicians have forbidden him to see any one. Since Storer's return to Vienna there has been practically a severance of diplomatic relations between the United States' embassy and the foreign office, as now that Storer is in Vienna the Austro-Hungarian government does not consider that Secretary Rives is charge d'affaires. Storer's letter of recall is expected next week, but unless the Washington state department authorizes Storer to present it personally its presentation must await the coming of Francis, Storer's successor.

Should Francis not arrive before the middle of June his audience of the emperor must be postponed until the end of September, as his majesty leaves Vienna early in June for his usual sojourn in the mountains, and the Austrian court ceremonial provides that a new ambassador cannot be introduced to the emperor except in the imperial palaces at Vienna or Budapest. A strong feature of this unusual diplomatic situation is the fact that the offices of the United States embassy are situated in the private residence of the recalled ambassador.

Entered as second-class matter June 22, 1904, at the Post Office at La Crosse, Wis., under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

TO ADVERTISERS.

After May 1, 1906, the display ADVERTISING RATES of The Tribune will be 12½ cents per column-inch. This represents an advance of 2½ cents per column-inch. Contracts will be accepted up to that date at the old rate, but they will not be solicited.

The reason! There is NO MONEY in advertising at 10 cents per column-inch. A steady increase in the cost of production has been maintained, with which advertising rates have not kept pace. Added to the increased price paid for labor, warranted by a parallel increase in the cost of living, all "fair" newspapers and job printers on Jan. 1, 1906 inaugurated the 8-hour day, instead of the 9-hour day, the result being an increase of over 11 per cent in the cost of production. This renders it impossible to make fair earnings at the old rate.

Advertisers in The Tribune, however, lose nothing, because the circulation of this paper has increased more than 1,200 in the past six months, and is steadily growing. In substantiation of this statement we renew our offer to enter into any fair arrangement for establishing the truth about La Crosse circulation, under the auspices of The Merchants' Association, and WE AGREE TO PAY THE ENTIRE COST OF THIS INVESTIGATION provided it does not show that we have the largest circulation (country and city) of any La Crosse daily newspaper.

TRIBUNE PUBLISHING COMPANY.

MR. GELATT AND THE COUNTY LIGHT PLANT.

In its issue of March 29th the Leader-Press, one of the papers owned and operated by the Gelatt-Cargill public utility monopoly outfit, was moved with righteous indignation because Supervisor Moore has had more or less to say about the advisability of "disposing of" the county courthouse lighting plant, and because the said plant was therefore proven to be heap no good. Curses!

Mr. Gelatt points out that he warned the county board, in advance of the purchase of the plant, that its installation would be utter folly. HE DID! Why? Because, if the county had its own plant, the Light Trust that was formed at the time Mr. Gelatt "acquired" a "gift" of Common Stock would no longer be able to hold the county up for lighting and power, and hence the county would no longer "skin its weasel" for Mr. Gelatt et al.

The Tribune thinks Mr. Moore is mistaken in advising a sale of this county plant. And in the construction which Mr. Gelatt puts on "Mr. Moore's suggestion there is done great injustice to the supervisors who were instrumental in the purchase of the equipment. The fact is that it was not presumed by these supervisors that the county plant would be operated as a regular thing. It was designed as a sort of insurance policy against further extortion by the Light Trust. Plainly, with the county prepared to do its own lighting, the Light Trust would have to charge only reasonable prices, instead of taking as much as they pleased. That is exactly what happened. Prior to the establishment of the county plant the taxpayers paid as much in three months for lighting the county buildings as they had paid in a whole year before the Central Electric company was "eliminated" at about the time the Common Stock was "acquired." Immediately after the establishment of the county plant, the price of lighting the county building was greatly reduced. Had it not been for the coming of the Wisconsin Light & Power company, the county would have been obliged to continue to rely upon its little plant as a means of forcing the Light Trust to make fair prices, and the plant would have paid for itself in this saving every few years. The object aimed at by the board in establishing the plant has thus been attained, and one marvels that sensible men can take seriously the claims of the very people to stop whose extortions it was brought, that "the plant has always been a detriment and should be sold for a song." Selfish in holding up the county for light until it was forced to spend $1,500.00 to protect itself, they are as selfish now in advising the removal of this comparatively inexpensive safeguard against the grasp of greed.

Some months ago, when an attempt was made to demonstrate that the lighting plant of the courthouse was ineffective and expensive to operate, The Tribune exposed the fact that the trial to which it had been subjected was unfair and could not have been wider of the truth had it been maliciously planned to misrepresent the facts. Our facts and figures on this point were irrefutable, and were never disputed. The county plant can be operated at a distinct saving over the prices charged just prior to its establishment.

By no means will it be wise for the county to dispose of its lighting plant. La Crosse has had two Light Trusts, and it may have another. The equipment is doing no harm where it is at present. It need not be used now, but it may as well be kept against the time when there may occur another "transfer" of Common Stock, with the attendant advance in the cost of light.

OF IRON STREET CAR POLES.

What if the street car company, which declines to "make any concessions to the city," were to be compelled to comply with the legal requirement that its line throughout be equipped with iron poles in place of the dangerous and unsightly wooden poles now in use? That expense would make the cost of the proposed extensions look like 30 cents, and would not be accompanied by the chance of increased patronage and profit. It would be well to advise the prospective purchasers of the line of this hitherto ignored law, the bills for which the owners of the line will have to foot in the near future.

MAHONEY, THE LAWYERS AND ETHICS.

We suggest that the city attorney consult each of his brother lawyers in the city as to the propriety or impropriety of his acting as counsel for a railroad and the city at the same time. We will buy him a new silk hat for every lawyer who will sign his name to a public statement that Mr. Mahoney's conduct is defensible under the ethics of the profession, or morally. Has he ever asked himself whether, had he not been city attorney, the railroad company would have sought his services? Does he not think it significant that a great railroad corporation should seek to retain a city attorney just at the time when it had several highly important matters to "adjust" with that city? And his friend, Mr. Gelatt, thinks he should be given an increase in pay as an inducement for not doing what every dignified attorney in the city has seen him do with shocked surprise. It would bring no pleasure to the city attorney were he to hear the candid opinion of his professional brethren as to his inconsistent dual engagement.

If the county wants to dispose of its lighting plant, it may be possible to trade it for the plant of the La Crosse Gas & Electric company, provided the latter company will offer a substantial cash consideration to boot.

JUST LIFE

My Masterpiece.

Every time I dip my pen into my purple ink.

And seat myself beside my desk and try my best to think

Of some new masterpiece in verse some other bard forgot

To write about, I only think of a bunch of Springtime rot.

"The budding trees" and "murm'ring creeks," and then the gentle "winds,"

Buzz round my head with a lot of gush about "those other times,"

And I throw away my bum cigar, and light my cigarette,

And try to think aesthetic thoughts of "dreams" like Antoinette;

Then just about the time I feel the Muses coming on,

I think of Whitcomb Riley and his lovely "Old Day" song;

"That Old Sweetheart," "The Close of Day" and other gems sublime,

Come rushing on till I start to muse of that real sweetheart of mine.

Then I dream the old dream, a poem real and sweet,

And dreamily I close my eyes—the Muses' spell's complete.

The poem I love—my masterpiece—I would not desecrate

In black and white, to face a world that can't appreciate.

So I lay my ink-wet pen aside and go to an old oak case

That holds the family pictures, and I find her lovely face;

I turn then to my easy chair, with lowered lights the while,

That they may not dull the radiance of her sunny pictured-smile.

I throw away my cigarette, and light my oldest pipe,

(The Muses all prefer it to a half-smoked 5-cent snipe)

And I watch the smoke rings break themselves into the hazy air—

Through half-closed eyes I seem to see a sweet girl lurking there;

And I dream on of my masterpiece—the ink dries on my pen—

Perhaps the day I find this girl—perhaps I'll write it then.

FOR YOUNG FOLKS

SIMPLE SCIENCE.

Action of Heat and Air Shown by Candle Experiments.

Touch paper is made by dipping ordinary unglazed paper into a solution of saltpeter. When it is dry after this treatment, it will burn with smoke, but without flame. You will need it in performing experiments, a few of which follow.

In the top of a shallow pasteboard box that is well made and close cut two holes about an inch in diameter each and place over each hole an argand lamp chimney.

In one of the holes under the chimney place a piece of candle of such a length that it will project above the hole about half an inch. Light the candle, and it will burn brightly.

Now ignite some touch paper, and the smoke will rise from it, but hold it over the chimney that has no candle in it and the smoke, instead of rising, will go down into the chimney and fill the box and then rise out of the chimney in which the candle is burning.

The reason is a simple one. The burning candle makes a draft up its chimney, using the air in the box. If the box be perfectly tight, with no crevices through which the air can enter, then the air comes down the other chimney to fill the box, because no space can remain empty of air. This draft going down the one chimney carries the smoke from the touch paper with it, and you can readily see why it rises in the other.

Of course you know that the candle could not burn without air, but you can prove it by holding your hand over the chimney down which the current has been going into the box. The candle will soon begin to burn feebly and will finally smoke and go out. No air can come down its own chimney because the upward draft in it is too strong.

Another way to make both of these experiments is to use an ordinary lamp chimney and a piece of tin cut in the shape of a T, as shown in the picture. Hang the piece of tin inside the chimney and place the candle a little to one side of it. Now, when you light the candle, the draft will go up that side and down the other, so, if you hold the touch paper to the empty side, the smoke will descend and ascend on the candle side, and in the same way, by holding your hand over the empty side of the chimney, you can put the candle out.—New York Mail.

The new Swiss belts are alluringly attractive with their delicate traceries of silver and their quaint rows of tiny buckles running from right to left across the front. WHITE LACE HAT.

A belt of this kind must be made by a professional and not attempted by the amateur.

The empire wave is hourly increasing, both in form and color, but happily there are plenty of women who refuse absolutely such colors as grass green and magenta. In the days of the great Napoleon the latter color must have been known by some other name, for it was beloved by the Empress Josephine, and as a color magenta did not exist until after the famous battle of 1859.

The girl who is given to violent intemacies, followed by violent quarrels, is not fitted for this work. The trained nurse must be self contained to the point of being secretive. She must study the art of keeping to herself and her work. Neither is the training school for nurses the place for the high strung, emotional girl, who over-estimates her importance.

The path which leads to a diploma holds for you absolute self effacement. You are but part, and a very small part at that, of the great hospital system with which you have cast your lot. Your personality is merged, into but one word, "duty."—Anna S. Richardson in Woman's Home Companion.

Recent railroad extensions through Lyman County have opened up a large portion of the state heretofore thinly settled because of lack of railroads.

At present Lyman County offers unusual opportunities for the man looking for a good location. Land is cheap—from $10 to $15 an acre—but these prices will not last long. Water is plentiful and the soil is rich.

ARE YOU A MOTHER?

If YOU are a mother, listen to the request of a mother. The Tribune wants to make its feature known as "HIGH CHAIR PHILOSOPHY," a means of entertaining the childless with the joys of the child-blessed home. The light and laughter and prattle incident to the ideal home is denied to many whom nature intended to bless with these delights. Every day, mothers, your children do and say things that make you laugh, or cry. These you enjoy, they are part of your life and help to make it worth living. Won't you share them with others? We promise not to use your names, unless you consent; we think it does no harm and would prefer to use them, but we pledge you our honor not to unless you are willing. Write or phone that latest bright or droll saying of your babes to Mrs. A. M. Brayton, 1122 Main street; new phone 814C. "HIGH CHAIR PHILOSOPHY" appears in the Saturday issue only.

THE PUBLISHERS.

What Kind of Financier Are You?

To sell a lot of ground for $50 less than it would bring if $5 were expended in advertising it is very common—if not very wise—financiering.

To allow a house or apartment to remain tenantless for three months, when $3 worth of advertising would have rented it in three days—is not a GOOD way to "manage property," but it is a very usual way!

Through all the little affairs of daily life we are apt to trample on the Financial Commandments, making ourselves the poorer, and nobody else especially the richer.
